Time: 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.
Location: Burlington County Library

Brief description of seminar:

Frequently, an old conviction can interfere with your ability to maintain your job, obtain a security clearance or even obtain financial aid when pursuing your education. You may be eligible for an expungement which is a legal procedure that "conceals" your criminal or disorderly persons conviction under certain circumstances.

Participants will have an opportunity to ask questions about the expungement process.

The presentation includes:

- Who is eligible
- Types of records that can be expunged
- Time requirements
- How to file
- What happens at the expungement hearing
- Forms will be provided
